the two then returned to the engine. Engineer Chaffee was ordered to run the train ahead and, as it started, the air-hose between the mail car and first passenger coach, which had not been disconnected by the fireman, pulled apart with a loud report. The mall car was pulled about 400 feet away from the other part of the train and the robber, forcing the engineer to go with him, got off the engine and went to the mall car. At the command of the bandit, Engineer Chaffee knocked on the door and told Mail Clerk Matthew Rautio to open it. Recognizing his voice, Rautio complied and, as he stepped into view, was covered by the robber's revolver.

Quickly climbing into the car, the bandit harshly ordered the clerks-Clerk Arthur Root also being in the ar-to direct him to the registered mail, adding, "Hurry up, you fellows. or I'll blow somebody's head off.' Clerk Rautio unlocked the wire receptacle holding the registered mail and the most likely appearing packages were gathered up by the robber and placed in a sack. Keeping the engineer and mail clerks still covered, he ordered the former to return to engine. The two alighted from the mail car and the engineman was ordered back to his post and the robber went around the south end of the mail

BURTON HOLMES' TRAVELS AND THE PICTOGRAPH - THIS IS AN EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM THROUGHOUT.

To the ladies I inquire: Do you know how the lower beings-the spiders-the snakes-the porcupines and a lot of other animals give birth to their kind, and do you know whether or not a motherly care is then spread about them? In this picture—we are aort of "schooled up" to appreciate what follows by a most enlightening reel of photographs of the very lowest objects that live and breathe. We then are confronted with the "CAVE MAN and HIS MATE—whom he takes by brute strength—of her desires for offspring and the BRUTE element in her mate which wrecks and ruins the LITTLE HEAVEN for the woman that God has created—How he STEALS THE BODY and then leaves it to the most horrible AGENT OF DEATH he could find—Right along the picture runs—down leaves it to the most horrible AGENT OF DEATH he could find—Right along the picture runs—down through the time of the Romans with their LUSTFUL love and unnatural living to the present time —when we find the young couple of today. The wife, with motherly instincts, and the husband—leading poverty and advising against an INCREASING FAMILY until they had money—The advancing of the man financially—but the ever present cry of there is yet time—until at last there is an accident which forever BARS ANY HAPPINESS for either of them. Oh, men and boys, here is SOME LESSON for any and all of us—something we cannot read in books—something no one has told us enough of—and "Teddy" was right when he made his big talk on "Race Suicide." See this picture by all means

This picture "Race Suicide," is one that I cannot handle in the usual "slangy," indifferent manner-I am glad to have been able to see a PRIVATE RUN of this wonderful sermon on Sunday afternoon and to link up "slang" with RACE SUICIDE would be a SACRILEGE indeed.

I eat there in that big empty theatre SPELL-BOUND at the audacity of the makers of this picture and the way they have of calling a spade, a SPADE—and driving home a lesson to all mankind that is going to make itself felt.

Gentlemen, to you—who, much the same as I—are under the Impression that this picture was intended for a "rap" at the "female of the species"—TO YOU I SAY—go see this remarkable work and you are going to come away from the Alhambra, with SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.
